- [ ] callous indifference in social care reprise and continue

two life hacks in one paragraph just loaded a paragraph of elegant prose and this fucking laptop flashed security offence and stole my efforts. i will precis my paragraph. had an impacted bowel couple of weeks ago dialled 111 for out of hours attention and was vastly underwhelmed by the response from the clinic which returned my call from a doctor who enquired how I was the next day so I told him i removed the goddamned thing with a modified toothbrush blunt end of course which i rammed up my arse and hooked it out, Size of a ferret it was I dispatched it to the Solway by way of the sewage bit by creating a vacuum using cling film lift seat seal bowl, return seat lid and flush , bingo it's gone i was left flushed with success victory he said but that was dangerous, whose arse is we talking about he wanted me to make an appointment to find out if i had done any damage to said arse but i was disncinled to make an appointment since he is perfectly capable of making a fool of himself without the assistance of me. You think thats comic tragic take a look at the broken system in social services care for the elderly i got no hesitation in saying i m an ancient cripple apparently 78 with a short shelf life .i got a fucking mirror at home. its true i only got 21 years to live 2046 my date of departure after getting shot by jealous husband its embedded in my subconscience now. on a more serious note fact i had a stroke 8 years ago and have never been treated for recovery i put my big boys trousers and taught myself how to walk againno physio no big pharma pills except clopidogeral then developed angina untreated until recently last week ish as if that wasnt enough i was fed food parcels and callous indifference by the social services which lead to food poisoning from tainted rice in field rations store for fucknows years in the council nuclear fuckbomb bolthole near the loreburne police station and malnutrian reserved for the high cockalorum high heid yins. these are not food bank stuffs these contain no protein not even a pint of milk or eggs heavens forbid! even the world food program would not dish this stuff in a warzone in africa. i shamed the dogs into providing diatery intervention and prescription of nutricia complan . but last week after years a care worker was assigned and i was to be visited en passant by a care worker who would check i was still breathing and had food to eat or was getting a meal and had my essential medications stroke precention clopdogeral and isosorbe heart attack stuff. since i gor severe mobility issues and 24/7 bone on bone pain i need to walk some to maintain my ability to walk with my stick. i the last 6 days i have had no proper meals other than complan and chocolate bars and was romised as a ,atter of underwhelmingurgency proper food, care worker came and promised to take teps to correct the situation after my daily call to single access point bitching about the neglect. one phoned my son in nottingham and said i had a contract with food train which is not the charity it pretends to be but rather charges 75 pounds for a shopping basket which he ordered yesterday for 58 pounds in order to avoid being orphaned prematurely.apparently a properly prepared care plan will be organised in the coming weeks after a meeting and finding out my needs a "note" has been put on the system i know my needs without a conference of morons . 1. a roof over my head 2. food as opposed to poisonous fiend rations 3.house free of trip hazards 4.getting help without have to make bitching phone calls to single access 5 . can do without passive aggressive receptionists 6 freedom from coercive attacks on my autonomy no more maggots telling me i gotta stop smoking i dont need that I already got a grown ass son who got that job already filled theres no current vacancy any way i woulld hire the current pretenders as maggots in a dead dogs arse.
